Health and Safety Management

Due to the cost of accidents, litigation and negative publicity for non-compliant organisations; it is not only a legal requirement, but it makes good business sense for the employer to manage health and safety within that particular business undertaking. The aim of QTS UK Ltd is to provide the client with high value products and services which are both meaningful to the organisation and legally compliant. Our health and safety management systems and training programmes will undoubtedly assist with creating a more positive health and safety culture for your organisation.

Every year health and safety regulations become more complex and it is difficult for companies to keep up-to-date with the latest legislation. Effective health and safety management is the key to protect you and your company from accidents, litigation and bad-publicity.

From simple risk assessments to comprehensive bespoke health and safety managements systems, QTS UK Ltd provide services that are legally compliant and meaningful to your organisation. We can assist you with the formation and review of your health and safety policy, support you with your health and safety risk assessments, provide health and safety training and carry out health and safety inspections or audits to benchmark your company's progress. You also have access to qualified health and safety/fire safety consultants and up-to-date independent advice, whenever you need it.
